Education

1978 Ph. D., Cornell University, Psychology
1974 B. A., Macalester College, Psychology

Professional Experience

2007 Visiting Lecturer, Program in Cognitive Changes across the Life Span, Universities of Geneva, Bern, & Zurich, Leysin, Switzerland
2004 Visiting Lecturer, Program in Cognitive Neurosciences, University of La Laguna, Tenerife, Spain
2002 Participant, Workshop on Technology for Adaptive Aging, National Research Council, Washington, D. C.
2001 Participant, Merrill Advanced Study Center Retreat on "Evaluating Research Productivity," Valley Falls, KS.
2000 University of Kansas: Roy A. Roberts Distinguished Professor of Psychology
1998 University of Kansas: Senior Scientist, Gerontology Center; Professor, Department of Psychology; Participating Faculty, Doctoral Program in Child Language and Doctoral Program in Gerontology
1997 Participant, Workshop on Cognitive Aging, University of Potsdam, Germany
1997 Participant, Berlin Seminar, German-American Fulbright Commission, Berlin, Germany
1996 Participant, Workshop on Language Processing, University of Potsdam, Germany
1993-1995 Visiting Professor, Innovation College on Formal Models of Cognitive Complexity, University of Potsdam, Germany
1988 University of Kansas: Full Professor, Department of Psychology; Participating Faculty, Doctoral Program in Child Language
1985 Visiting Associate Professor, Center for the Study of Reading, University of Illinois
1984 Andrew W. Mellon Fellow, Center for Humanistic Studies, University of Kansas
1980 Participant, Workshop on Psycholinguistic Models, University of Kassel, F. R. G.
1978-1988 University of Kansas: Assistant to Associate to Full Professor, Department of Psychology,
1978 Participant, Workshop on AI and Natural Language Processing, Yale University

Academic Honors

2007 Outstanding Graduate Educator Award, Graduate School, University of Kansas
2004 Retirement Research Foundation Master Mentor Award, Div. 20 (Adult Development), American Psychological Association
2003 Certificate of Teaching Excellence in Child Language Doctoral Program, Center for Teaching Excellence, University of Kansas
2000 Fellow, American Psychological Society
1997 Senior Fellowship, German-American Fulbright Commission, University of Potsdam, Germany

1995	Fellow, Gerontological Society of America
1993	Higuchi/Balfour Jeffrey Research Achievement Award in the Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Kansas
1992	Hall of Fame, Commission on the Status of Women, Emily Taylor Women's Resource Center, University of Kansas
1990-1994	Research Career Development Award, National Institute on Aging
1989-1990	Mid-American States University Association Honor Lecturer
1974-1978	NIMH Trainee in Experimental Psychology and Psycholinguistics, Cornell University
1974	Phi Beta Kappa and Summa Cum Laude, Macalester College
1970-1974	National Merit Scholarship, Macalester College

Professional Memberships

American Association for the Advancement of Science, American Psychological Society, Gerontology Society of America, Psychonomics Society

Research Interests

Psycholinguistic processes, developmental and geriatric psycholinguistics

Teaching Interests

Psycholinguistics, developmental psycholinguistics, psychology of aging, cognitive aging, language and aging, life-span development, professional issues/responsible conduct of science

Teaching and Mentoring

Undergraduate Level

General Psychology, Honors (10-20 students)
 Cognitive Psychology (50-150 students)
 Introduction to Cognitive Science (10 -20 students)

Psychology of Language (35-50 students)
 Language Development (25-50 students)
 Psychology of Aging (50-150 students)

Graduate Level

Advanced Psycholinguistics Seminars (5-20 students):

Discourse Processing
 Discourse Development
 Acquisition of Syntax
 Cognitive Science
 Language Acquisition
 Sentence Processing
 Biology and Evolution of Language
 Language and Aging

Proseminar in Child Language (20-30 students, team taught)

Gerontology Proseminar (10-20 students)

Communication and Aging Proseminar (5 - 10 students, team taught)

Research Methods in Language Development (5-10 students)

Graduate Seminars (5-15 students):

Language of Psychopathology
 Semantics and Categorization
 Social Cognition
 Cognitive Aging

Issues in Scientific Conduct (10-20 students, team taught)

Mentoring Activities

Honors Tutorials (1986, 1988, 1989, 1990)
